

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

VOL. 2--NO. 237.

MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1883.

PRICE ONE CENT.

C. B. A.

HARDWARE
AND IRON
FOR GOOD AND CHEAP

SHINGLES

GO TO—

T. A. COOK & CO.,

2331w Mt. Carmel, Fleming County, Ky.

MRS. M. J. MOFFORD,

Third St., opposite Christian Church.

Millinery and Notions.

A NEW STOCK just received and prices VERY LOW. Bonnets and Hats made over in the latest styles. 22-110

PAINTING!

I am prepared to paint Buggies and Furniture of all kinds on more reasonable terms than any other painter in the city will offer. I guarantee my work to be first class. Leave orders at Ball, Mitchell & Co.'s.

BUGGIES PAINTED FOR $10.75

J. H. DEAL, C. H. DEAL.

THE PLACE TO GET CHEAP

BED-ROOM SUITS

—IS AT—

GEORGE ORL, JR.'s,

McKiddly SUTTON STREET.

Public Sale!

WE will offer at public sale on Saturday, September 15th, 1883, on the premises, the farm four miles north of Maysville, late occupied by Mrs. Maria Warder. It contains 175 acres, is well improved, and has on it a good house of eight rooms, two tobacco barns, all necessary out-buildings, and plenty of water. The land is superior tobacco land. Terms made known on day of sale. Sale at 2 p. m. H. M. WARDER, J. D. FEED, Aucts. aug15ds3w3w

J. C. PECOR & CO.

Keep constantly on hand a full supply of

School and Blank

BOOKS,

Pencils, Pens, Copy Books, Slates, Satchels, Ink, Writing Paper, Envelopes, &c. Carpet and building paper always in stock.

Wall Paper, Window Shades,

Pure Drugs, Teas, Salts, Patent Medicines, Dye Stuffs, Oils and Varnishes, Bags and Tobacco, Putnam, Toilet Articles &c., &c.

MAYSVILLE

CITY MILLS.

ROBINSON & CO.

Are still grinding corn and are prepared to grind your own corn or exchange at any time.

Wheat CUSTOM Grinding

Will be done as heretofore, when good wheat is brought to them. aug28w2m

PIANO MANUFACTORY.

F. L. TRAYSER,

—Dealer in first-class—

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

ALL INSTRUMENTS WARRANTED!

PIANOS TUNED AND REPAIRED!

Front Street, Maysville.

SCHOOL BOOKS!

For Mason County.

THE following of the Eclectic Educational Series have been officially adopted by the County Board of Examiners for exclusive use in the public schools of Mason County, viz:

McGuffey's Readers, Primer and Chart
Ray's Arithmetic and Algebra,
Electric Geographies, Kentucky
Edition; Electric System Penmanship, Eclectic History of the United States and Brown's Physiology and Hygiene, &c.

Furnished at Publisher's rates by

MORRISON & KACKLEY,

22d & 11th Maysville, Ky.

Established Business

FOR SALE!

THE partnership of the firm of SULSER, PERRY & CO., Clear manufacturers, of Maysville, Ky., will expire by limitation on November 1st, 1883. The machinery, office furniture, copyrights, stock and good will of the business are offered for sale. For years the firm has enjoyed the confidence of the trade and have now booked an exceptionally fine line of customers throughout the country. What the Burlington wants with the rails cannot be learned here, but it is suspected the road is coming down this way. A corps of engineers are now surveying a paper railroad from Little Buttes, which is half way between here and Colorado Springs, to the vicinity of the Canyon City coal banks, and it is rumored the Burlington has a tow line on this matter.

addm

TIED TO A STAKE.

Extraordinary Freak of a De- ranged Tailor.

The Ghostly Discovery of Some Hay-makers—A Horrible Suicide in a Desolate Sea Marsh—Sad Effects of a Case of Sunstroke—A Demented
Man Strangles Himself With a Bit of Wollen Cord.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—George Vreel land, Westley Williams and Edward Williams, of Bayonne, were cutting the sag-rains in what are called the West Meadows, between Newark and Elizabethport, on Saturday afternoon. At some distance from them they noticed a man who appeared to be lying on the ground asleep, but as he did not move for an hour they went closer and saw that the man was dead and that he was tied by the neck to a stake. When the Chief of Police of Bayonne was informed of the discovery he telegraphed to Chief Jenkins, of Elizabeth, and County Physician Terrill and some officers went from Elizabeth to bring in the body. They hunted through the meadows all the morning without finding it, and it was only after enlisting the services of two of the haymakers that the remains were found. The spot was desolate even for a suicide to die in. It was some one hundred and fifty yards back from Newark Bay and not far from Bound Creek. No roads led to the spot, rank marshes spread round about it, and for two miles there was not a house in sight.

When the scared party approached the body it was found that the upper portion was not resting on the ground at all. The fastening which went round the man's neck and then round the top of a stake was a strip of knitted wool. The stake was an old one, shaped like a thick, short fence post. It was only set in the soft mud about a foot, and the weight of the man's body had pulled it over, so that it stood at an angle of about forty-five degrees, but yet held his head in the air. It was evident that the man had strangled himself, but whether he had found the stake where it was or whether he had set it up himself could not be easily determined. The stake is now at police headquarters in Elizabeth. The suicide was a man of about forty-one years, five feet ten inches in height, dressed in a navy blue suit, with a brown straw hat and Congress gaiters. Only twenty-seven cents were found in his pockets, together with a pipe and tobacco pouch, a knife and some needles and thread, which tended to prove that the man was a tailor. From all appearances the body had not lain more than twenty-four hours when found. It was taken by the county physician in a boat to Elizabethport and thence removed to an undertaker's wagon.

When the finding of the body was first announced it was thought that it might be that of Mr. Booth, the missing ticket agent. But the remains had not been in an undertaker's establishment at Elizabeth more than half an hour when Detective McManus, Dr. Smith and two other friends of William Nolte, a tailor, living at No. 28 North Canal street, Newark, came to view them. Nolte was overcome by the heat while working at No. 11 Belmont avenue last Monday. He left the shop then and had not been heard from since. The face of the body was mutilated, but the party readily identified it from the clothing as that of the missing tailor. Nolte was not an intemperate man, nor was his mind unsound before he was affected by the heat on Monday. It is supposed that he wandered about aimlessly for several days, ignorant of his own actions; that he found himself on the meadows, whose desolate atmosphere increased his mental derangement, and that finding the post, as described, he strangled himself to death. He was much respected by his neighbors in Newark, who had yesterday morning issued a circular describing his appearance when last seen and the circumstances of his disappearance. He left a wife and two children.

A STEER AT SEA.

Singular Discovery of a New York Yachtsman.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Captain Frank Robinson, owner of the yacht Fremont, of Tottenville, Staten Island, started for a fishing cruise a few days ago. While anchored near the Horseshoe Captain Robinson espied an unfamiliar object moving about in the lower bay. Lowering a boat he pulled toward the thing and, after rowing a mile, came up with a large steer. A heavy board was attached by a rope to the animal, which, however, was swimming easily. The distance from shore was three miles. The Captain attached a rope to the animal's horns and freed it from the board. Heading his boat to the shore the steer was guided that way and landed near Sandy Hook seemingly exhausted by its long swim, which Captain Robinson estimates must have been at least seven miles. After a brief rest the animal started away from the beach, apparently making for home, and the Captain returned to his yacht.

GOING SOUTH.

Probable Significance of the C. E. & Q. Movements.

PUEBLO, Aug. 27.—The Colorado Coal and Iron Company has taken a contract to manufacture a large quantity of steel rails for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway, which will keep the rail mill going at its utmost capacity for three months on this contract exclusively. The company has finished a supply of rails for the present extensions of the Rio Grande. What the Burlington wants with the rails cannot be learned here, but it is suspected the road is coming down this way. A corps of engineers are now surveying a paper railroad from Little Buttes, which is half way between here and Colorado Springs, to the vicinity of the Canyon City coal banks, and it is rumored the Burlington has a tow line on this matter.

BIG FALLING OFF.

Great Decrease in Pennsylvania Rail- way Earnings.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.—The earnings of the Pennsylvania Railroad not only shows a falling off for July, as compared with the previous July, but the gross earnings are smaller than for the preceding month, which had one less day in it. At the same time the expenses, though much smaller than in June, are 5 per cent. greater than in July of last year. This leaves the net earnings 9 1/2 per cent. less than for July, 1882, though a bare trifle in excess of those for 1881, when the net earnings were $331,000 less. This falling off has wiped out nearly the whole of the gain of the year. The gross earnings show a gain of less than 5 1/2 per cent., though the capital stock is $10,000,000 greater, and the increased expenses have reduced the gain in the net to less than 2 per cent., or a trifle less than two days' gross receipts. The total is actually less than for the first seven months of 1881, when the capital stock was $20,000,000 less. Nor have the Western lines helped out the deficit. They show a surplus over liabilities of $309,690, which is $45,340 less than for the same period of last year. This is a loss for the month of $192,808, and for the first time this year the total falls behind the total for the same period of 1882. The ratio of operating expenses has not been altered by the month's returns, and it is 1.8 per cent. greater than last year, and 6.4 per cent. greater than in 1881.

THE FIRST MURDER.

Bradford, Pa., Receives Its Baptism of Blood.

BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 27.—The first murder ever committed within the corporate limits of Bradford has just taken place. Major Ashton, an inoffensive and good natured colored man has for years gathered garbage in this city. He drove a dilapidated wagon, which was usually followed by a tame bear owned by Ashton, who was greatly attached to the animal.

As the Major stopped at the Shadyside saloon to collect garbage, a colored man from Ridgeway, who gives his name as George Gordon, undertook to set his dog upon the bear, when the Major became angry, and told the man to call his dog off. As he refused to do this Ashton threatened him, and finally he slapped Gordon on the face whereupon the latter drew a Smith & Wesson revolver, and fired three shots. The first missed, the second struck Ashton in the mouth, and the third passed through his heart. The murderer was captured by the fire police and turned over to the authorities. He is about thirty years of age and a humpback.

Since his arrest a constable has arrived from Ridgeway, with a warrant for his arrest on the charge of shooting a man there on Tuesday and dangerously wounding him. There is strong talk among the colored men here of lynching the murderer, as Major Ashton was very popular, not only among those of his own race, but among the whites as well.

GONE WRONG.

A Milwaukee Postmaster Gets Into Trouble.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27.—Jacob J. Baringer, postmaster at Egg Harbor, Door county, Wis., was brought here under arrest. He stands charged with detaining and obstructing the delivery of letters. According to the complaint, Baringer, who is a merchant at Egg Harbor, found his financial affairs somewhat complicated, and accordingly made an assignment to Jacob Wellauer & Co., of this city, to whom he was considerably indebted. Wellauer & Co., at once proceeded to notify parties indebted to Baringer that the accounts must be paid to him, but the notifications, which were mailed from Milwaukee, never reached the parties for whom they were intended, as Baringer quietly put them away, and it is alleged proceeded to collect the accounts himself. Thus, not long since, fifty-three missives, the delivery of which had been obstructed, reached Wellauer & Co. from the dead-letter office, and hence the arrest. Baringer is an old resident of Door county, and at one time was reputed to be quite wealthy. He was treasurer of the town of Egg Harbor. He has been bound over for trial.

MINING PERILS.

What Pennsylvania Mining Statistics Show.

POTTSVILLE, Aug. 27.—The report to the court of the July mining statistics shows that out of 31,365 persons employed at the mines in the Schuylkill region nine were killed and twenty-four injured. The number of accidents is regarded as encouragingly small. The mines worked an average of eighteen and three-quarter days, and produced 866,215 tons of coal. In the Shenandoah district, with over 12,000 employees, and shipments of nearly 400,000 tons, there was but one fatality, while in the Pottsville district, with less than half the number of employees, and less than one-third the shipments, there had been killed and eight injured.

A Youthful Burglar Caught.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Detective Cosgrove, of the central police station, arrested a young man named Lee Steel for the burglary of the residence of M. T. Hubbard, of La Grange. The burglary occurred July 4, and a quantity of valuable property, including a heavy gold watch-chain, a silver-plated music box, some gold rings and other jewelry. From a description sent to the police of this city of the supposed burglar, Steel was arrested as the thief. He confessed his guilt and showed the officers where he had disposed of the property. The most of the jewelry, aggregating in value about $150, was recovered from the various pawn-shops where Steel had disposed of it. The prisoner was locked up at the armory, and will be taken to Crete, Ill., for prosecution.

BRUTAL TREATMENT

A Sick Priest Robbed By a Pick- pocket.

Sad Story of an Unhappy Man—
Friendless and Alone Among Strangers—The Good Samaritan
Who Coolly Stole His Charge Blind.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 27.—Father Antonio Angelo, a suspended Catholic priest, arrived at the relay depot on an Ohio and Mississippi train, and had scarcely reached the platform when he was seized with a sudden weakness, and was about to fall when caught by a well-dressed young man and assisted to the door of the depot. The young man was very attentive to the priest, procuring him a glass of water and something to eat, and nursing his head on his lap till the weakness would pass away. The priest finally recovered and found his watch and a large pocket-book, containing valuable letters of recommendation to the St. Louis clergy, and the few dollars in money which he possessed, missing. The young man started north of the depot and has not been seen since. Father Angelo gave a very accurate description of the young man, which tallies exactly with a well-known East St. Louis crook and pickpocket, but Chief Holloran and the intelligent city attorney refused to take any steps toward arresting the supposed criminal. Father Angelo relates an interesting story of his trials and hardships since his suspension, three years ago. He was then pastor of the small church at Mount Carmel, Ill., and at a picnic given for the benefit of his church the young men and ladies indulged in dancing. Some evil-disposed people informed Bishop Baltes of the violation of the rules of his diocese, and further accused Father Angelo of indulging in the dance. The priest became a wanderer. Every small town he visited the German Catholic priests called him a drunkard, and refused to even give him a meal. Bishop Baltes would listen to no appeal for help or reinstatement, and hunger became a much more frequent feeling than a full stomach. He then entered the Trappists' convent to do penance, and remained over a year, but still could not be reinstated. For three years he has wandered through Illinois and Missouri, living on the charity of the Christian Brothers or members of Catholic churches. The thief robbed him of all his letters of recommendation except one, of Father Weber, of St. Joseph's church, where he went this morning. He will remain at the Christian Brothers at Cote Blanche a few days in hopes of hearing from his lost letters across the river.

EXCURSION STEAMERS.

Complaints on the Subject of Over- loading.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—General Dumont, Inspector General of Steamboats, says that he is in daily receipt of complaints from all parts of the country in regard to the overloading of steamboats on excursions, defective boilers, unseaworthy boats, etc. The system of record is such in his office that all such complaints can be investigated at a moment's notice. Weekly reports are received from all places in the country where inspectors are located. These contain the names of the steamboats to which excursion permits have been issued, the number of persons carried and the tonnage of the boat. On those lines which run excursion boats on regular routes during the season one permit is issued, which is liable to be taken up by the Inspector General at any time if found necessary, but on lines which carry excursions only for occasions a permit must be obtained every time. As record is kept of all these and is sent to the Washington office it can be readily detected if any vessel owner has been guilty of any breach of his charter. General Dumont says that some of the complaints are actuated by jealousy, and are without foundation, and that many are extremely frivolous, but every one is at once investigated. He has recently received a newspaper slip, cut from a Chicago paper and mailed to him by Secretary Folger, in which a vessel is complained of.

A GREAT SAVING.

Good Results of the Pension Bureau Turn-Over.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The work of the Pension office is now in a more advanced condition than any previous time in its history. The additional force of clerks given Colonel Dudley by the last Congress has enabled him to bring the current work of the office practically up to date. The number of cases settled during the last fiscal year was 91,000. The office now visits daily for New York upon the mails bringing additional information or new inquiries from claimants. The savings made by the new system of examinations, in setting aside fraudulent cases or preventing their success, have amounted to about $1,600,000. This is within $400,000 of the cost of the pension bureau, which last year was in round numbers $2,000,000. It is confidently expected that the savings this year by the investigations of the office will fully equal the entire cost of the bureau.

Wild Frenks of a Drunken German.

Easton, Pa., Aug. 27.—One of the most prominent participants in a German festival now being held here was found on the street intoxicated and chasing chil- dren with a sword. He was in uniform. He was locked up, and while being taken to his cell threatened to commit suicide. True to his word, he was shortly after dis- covered hanging unconscious in his cell by his suspenders. He was cut down and re- vived. He gave his name as Maltes Graff, of Williams Township. His friends were sent for and he was taken away.

ARRESTED.

A Notorious James Gang Man in Limbo.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 27.—The notorious Barney Sweeney, of Clay county, the home of the James brothers, was arrested at Liberty about daylight upon a charge of attempted blackmail of A. O. Talmadge, traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific Railway at St. Louis. Sweeney has been connected with all sorts of crimes, from train robberies and murders to blackmail. He escaped conviction for murder in 1878 by the death of a prominent witness, and then fled to Indian Territory, and a few months ago he was connected with an alleged train robbery, which resulted in the killing by Sweeney of a man who he claimed was one of the robbers. For this he was taken to Fort Smith and acquitted. From there he went to St. Louis to try to obtain $2,000 from Mr. Talmadge. When arrested Sweeney forbade the officers entering his house, saying he had six armed men who would protect him; but he was arrested in the second story of his house with two revolvers in his possession.

STRICKEN DOWN.

An Entire Family Overcome By a Thunderbolt.

SHENANDOAH, Aug. 27.—A terrific thunderstorm reached its height here about 5 o'clock in the morning, the rain falling in a perfect deluge, while the wind blew a hurricane. Much damage was done to fences, chimneys, etc. About 5 o'clock a thunderbolt fell in a neighboring wood close to the town with such force as to cause great consternation. The dense brush and timber was riven and strewn around in a remarkable manner. A family named Rogers living in a house that seemed to be in a direct line with the bolt, while more than a hundred yards distant, were so shocked that they were several hours in fully recovering from its effects. It was doubtful for some time whether the oldest daughter could be resuscitated. She is a girl of highly nervous organization, and was sleeping on the ground floor.

A BENEVOLENT UNDER- TAKER.

The Man Who Buried Mrs. Cameron's Murderer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The remains of George Beattie, the Scotchman, who committed suicide after killing Mrs. Elizabeth Cameron at No. 466 Eighth avenue, were buried in Evergreen's cemetery. The expense of the funeral were defrayed by a philanthropic undertaker, who buried the murderer because he was simply a countryman of his. He took Beattie's body to his shop from the morgue on the night of the tragedy and placed it in a black walnut casket. The inscription on the plate read: "George Beattie, died August 23, 1883, aged 48 years." The coffin was placed in the undertaker's covered wagon yesterday afternoon and carried to the cemetery, where it was interred. There was no mourner excepting the undertaker.

A THIEF'S STRATEGY.

Drugging the Clerk and Robbing the Money-Drawer.

EASTON, Ga., Aug. 26.—A young man entered a drug store and asked Charles Killian, clerk, if the proprietor was about. Killian answered that he had gone to supper. The visitor said he was an agent for a wholesale drug house and asked Killian to smell and taste the contents of a bottle which he produced. What took place after he tasted the stuff Killian is not yet able to tell. When the druggist returned he found several customers in the store and the unconscious Killian lying on the collar floor vomiting. The money-drawer had been robbed of its contents and the safe had been tampered with but not opened. Killian is believed to be out of danger but he is very weak and feeble.

Drought in Pennsylvania.

PINE GROVE, Pa., Aug. 27.—The con- tinued drought in this section is causing considerable inconvenience and expense. It is particularly felt at the collieries. Miller, Graeff & Co., at Ranshaw Creek Colliery, are compelled to have their water brought in large oil tanks holding 4,500 gallons each from Lorberry Junction, a distance of three miles. It is then stored in a large tank, from which the water is pumped up to the slopes and breaker. If the dry weather continues, other collieries will be compelled to adopt the same mea- sures or suspend operations.

Stolen Property Recovered.

SPARTA, Ill., Aug. 27.—Mr. J. H. Dickey and John M. Myers, City Mar- shal, have just returned from an extensive chase after the fugitives George and Harry Blizzard, who ran away from this place some two weeks ago. A part only of the stolen property was recovered—five horses, wagon and harness. The capture was made in Northwest Missouri, in Worth county.

Texas Oil Fields.

DALLAS, TEX., Aug. 27.—Mr. George Noble, formerly superintendent of the Texas and Pacific railroad, and recently engaged in railroading in New Mexico and Arizona, is spoken of in connection with the development of the petroleum discoveries at Brownwood, also with Gov- ernor Hubbard's narrow-gauge railroad schemes in Texas and Louisiana.

A Stray Bullet.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Curtin was sitting in front of her residence, No. 333 East Twenty-fifth street, holding her baby, aged eighteen months, in her arms, when a bullet fired by some unknown per- son, struck the child on the head, cutting a furrow in the infant's scalp. The wound was dressed in Bellevue Hospital.